If this saying is as true as it is old, judging from the lively manner the high piles have been melting down since the inauguration of our Great January Mark Down Sale, we shall succeed in the tremendous task of closing out our entire winter stock regardless of the weather. Talk as you please, argue till doomsday, but the fact remains that such big, genuine reductions as we have made all over our establishment during the past few days will cause a buying fever among the people every stock regardless of the weather. Talk as you please, argue till doomsday, but the fact remains that such big, genuine reductions as we have made all over once aroused enteless on everywhere. It spreads from house to house, from street to street time. And there is nothing more contagious than the buying fever. Even the clorious Influence, must take a back seat in this case of the street of the contagious than the buying fever. time. And there is nothing more contagious than the buying fever. Even the glorious Influenza must take a back seat in this respect. The buying fever will be no abatement, but a decided from town to town, and this accounts for the busy times at "THE BOSTON," and the dull, dreary hours in the establishments whose proprietors are waiting for the cold weather to sell their winter goods.

Our Great January Mark Down Sale will be Supplemented by Our Annual Inventory Counter Clearing.

This double attraction will undoubtedly draw big houses every day this week, and, it is safe to predict, that every patron will save a snug sum of money. With an unusually large winter stock still on our counters, and stock taking being but two week off, it stands to reason that we will this week make greater exertions (i. e. bigger reductions) than ever to turn merchandise into money. It's dollars, not garments, we want to count at our inventory, hence you needn't be surprised at our offer to sell

ANY OVERCOAT IN THE HOUSE THAT HAS BEEN $20, $18, $16, $15, $14,

CAN BE BOUGHT FOR THIS WEEK AT TEN DOLLARS.

EVERY SACK AND FROCK CASSIMERE AND CHEVIOT SUIT IN OUR HOUSE THAT HAS BEEN $20, $18, $16, $15, $14

Can be Bought for This Week at Ten Dollars.

We didn't take an undesirable lot here and mark it down for advertising purposes, but have slashed prices in every department. Nothing excepted! Now, then, if you have any spare change (and who hasn't) bring it forth and invest it in this great combination closing out sale. Even if you don't need the goods just at present, it will pay you to buy them at these prices. Do not, if you have your own interest at heart, buy a cent's worth of goods elsewhere before having visited our establishment. Compare our goods and prices with those offered by other houses, and, if we don't undersell them all by a heap, we shall not consider ourselves worthy of your patronage.

and the Spaniards.

"Spain and Spanish cities" were wonderfully painted and beautifully described by Mr. Frederick A. Ober to a well-pleased audience last night at the Young Men's Christian Association building. People in general can have no idea of the beauty of the stereopticon pictures he presents. In the pictures all is animation, and one not only knows that the man has been there, but one is carried there with him. The pictures are in harmony with the lecture. To the chief points of Seville and Codiz the audience was conducted, and finally to Granada and the Albambra. Not only were general views ora. Not only were general view civen, striking and beautiful enough their graceful Moorish architecture, be pieces of wall, a bit of ceiling, an arch,
